I. Director's Note

Good Job delegates you have been assigned to this special new committee. As this is a CRISIS committee it is not necessary to write a background paper. Although it is recommended to investigate as much as possible. There is no need to watch the movies or read the books as long as you investigate and know the topic of this committee. We recommend searching important events and more specifically more about your character and its role in this franchise. This is a fictional committee so anything can happen, so be ready. This committee is happening at the 6th/7th book or at the 7th/8th movie. Where the battle of Hogwarts begins, anything that happens further from that did not happen. You can either have a good character or a bad one but it is your task to defend that character's point of view. The moment the debates start you are no longer a regular person you are part of the wizarding world. Good luck delegates and remember to expect the unexpected...

II. Introduction

Hogwarts Students, as we gather today, we find ourselves facing a significant challenge that brings to mind the Battle of Hogwarts, a critical moment in our fight against Lord Voldemort and his Death Eaters. The threat posed by Voldemort is not merely a story from the past; it is a reality that we must confront together with courage and determination.

Like the brave students and members of the Order of the Phoenix who joined forces during that monumental battle, we too must unite to create a strong plan to protect our community. Our strength lies in our ability to come together, and we must build partnerships, much like the alliances formed between wizards, witches, and magical creatures during the conflict.

Now, more than ever, we need to emphasize the core values of acceptance and understanding. These values are crucial as we combat Voldemort's message of hate and division. Education will play a vital role in spreading these values among our people and in our efforts to stand firm against the darkness that threatens us.

As students of Hogwarts, it is our responsibility to ensure that we communicate openly, share our ideas, and carefully plan our next steps. This is our opportunity to learn from the past, to recognize the strength that comes from working together, and to take bold action. Let's gather our resources and resolve to confront this evil head-on. The future of our wizarding world depends on our unity and determination. Together, we have the power to succeed and bring hope to all those who stand with us.

III. Conclusion

In conclusion, students, our objective in this committee is clear and vital: we must stop Lord Voldemort once and for all and free Hogwarts from the influence of the Death Eaters. The stakes are incredibly high, as we are currently living in a time of great danger. The wizarding world is in turmoil, and fear has taken hold of both our school and the wider community. With Voldemort's return, dark forces are threatening our safety and the values we hold dear.

To achieve our goal, we will need to develop effective strategies and use our intelligence to outsmart the enemy. It is essential that we work as a united front, combining our strengths and using our magical abilities wisely. We must gather information, understand our opponent's weaknesses, and find ways to break into Hogwarts to reclaim it for our side. This will require teamwork, communication, and a willingness to adapt our plans as necessary.

As we confront this challenge, it is crucial to remember the impact of our actions on the future of the wizarding world. Defeating Voldemort will not only protect Hogwarts but will also help restore hope and security to all those who have suffered under his reign of terror. If we succeed, we can pave the way for a brighter future, one where love and friendship can thrive once more.

Right now, many are living in fear, and our community is desperate for a change. We must rise to the occasion and show that together, we can make a difference. Let's focus on our goals, support one another, and prepare to face whatever challenges lie ahead. The fate of Hogwarts and the entire wizarding world depends on us. Now is the time to take action and stand strong against the darkness that threatens to consume us. Together, we can reclaim our home and ensure that it remains a place of learning, acceptance, and magic for generations to come.
